This skill-building group was created to help graduate students with learning differences meet their academic and creative potential. By the end of our 5 weeks together, we hope that you can better understand how to achieve academic success using a holistic approach that includes the topics below. Meetings will be held online via Zoom.

TOPICS:
- Online Learning Strategies
- Communication Skills
- Time Management
- Studying Skills
- Stress Management
- Campus Resources

This group will be limited in size so a screener will be required. Please contact sforry@usc.edu if you are interested.
